M.G. Road traffic bottleneck

DC's solution

Farmers, vendors prohibited from parking vehicles on busy road; Barricades, CCTV vigil to ease market rush

DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, MCC Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff and other Officers during the inspection of M.G. Road and market last evening.

Mysuru, June 19 (RK&BCT)- In a fresh attempt to find a long-lasting solution for smooth traffic flow on M.G. Road in front of the vegetable market, where vegetable-laden vehicles, farmers, middlemen and vendors blatantly flout all norms and hold up busy traffic, top administrative and Police officers of Mysuru inspected the area last evening.

The team was led by Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff, DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj, DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi, ACP (Traffic) Parashuramappa and MCC Superintending Engineer K.J. Sindhu, who is also the MCC Deputy Commissioner (Development).

Upon arriving on the road, several vendors and farmers appealed to the officers not to relocate the market, emphasising it was crucial for their livelihood. However, the DC highlighted that their business activities on the road were disrupting traffic flow, including ambulance movements.

Dr. Rajendra suggested relocating to the Bandipalya APMC Yard, merely two to three kilometres away, where concrete shops were readily available, but the vendors declined, citing concerns about a lack of customer visits there.

Temporary solutions

Recognising the impasse, the DC implemented temporary solutions until a final decision could be made in consultation with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa.

Mysuru, June 19-The 106th Lions International Convention will be held between June 20 and 25 at Melbourne, Australia.

Ln. N. Subramanya, the District Governor-Elect of District 317G, will be installed as the District Governor during the Convention on June 25. He has left for Melbourne with his wife Vani Subramanya and a host of other Lions for this six-day event.

Ln. N. Subramanya and Vani Subramanya

The Lions International Convention includes many events like Parade of Nations, Seminars, Banquets, Opening & Closing Plenary Sessions, Schooling for District Governor-Elects and their spouses, UN Flag Ceremony, Elections for International Third Vice-President, International Directors and Installation of District Governors for 2024-25.

Ln. N. Subramanya is one of the few Governors selected to address the Convention delegates on the topic 'How to Attract New Members?', according to a press release from Ln. Naveen Subramanya, District PRO, Lions District 317G.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

It is said that "citizens have rights and rulers have responsibilities." During the time of elections, the roles seem to get somewhat mixed up. Citizens become voters; rulers or politicians contesting elections assume they have certain rights, namely, the right to promise anything that would woo voters to vote for them. So they offer them freebies and subsidies, which have now graduated into what are called 'guarantees.'

The moot question is to what extent the freebies or guarantees work. The five guarantees that were supposed to have helped the Congress party win the last Assembly elections in Karnataka seem to have failed in the Parliamentary elections, leaving the party unable to get the expected number of seats. The State Congress Spokesperson, M. Lakshmana, who lost the Lok Sabha election, has openly questioned the utility of the guarantees and said that the forward-caste voters who are reaping the benefits of the guarantee schemes have supported the BJP, which is opposing these schemes and has urged the Chief Minister to review the scheme.

A greater responsibility rests on the political leaders not to mislead the public by holding out promises, which can amount to 'bribing.' The duty of a political party is to spell out the policies and measures it would implement to accelerate economic development, expand opportunities for education and employment, and create better health care facilities. Can there be some rules, or at least guidelines, to begin with, on what the contents of a party manifesto should be? Interestingly, in the writ petition case referred to above, none of the parties, including the Supreme Court and the Government, was willing to constitute a committee to address the question of freebies. This leaves the door open for citizens to act and constitute a Citizens' Committee. This is not going to be easy, either. Who will constitute such a committee, who should be its members and related questions arise.

Can some leading citizen organisations, academic institutions and intellectuals who can conduct research on the subject take the initiative in setting in motion a conversation to which citizens as well as political parties can contribute? —A. Ravindra in Deccan Herald

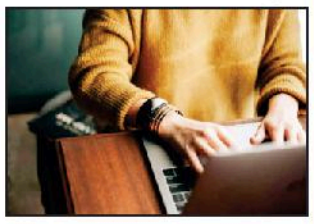
Lady sues firm for paying her to do nothing



Paris: A woman is taking telecom giant Orange to court for "moral harassment and discrimination at work," accusing the company of paying her for 20 years without giving her any tasks.

Laurence Van Wassenhove was recruited as a civil servant by France Telecom in 1993 before the company was taken over by Orange. Her original employer knew that she was hemiplegic – partial paralysis of the face and limbs – from birth, suffered from epilepsy and offered her a position adapted to her medical conditions.

She worked as a secretary and in the HR Department until 2002 when she asked to be transferred to another region of France. Her request was approved, but her new workplace was not adapted to her needs and an occupational medicine report confirmed that the position was not suited for her.

Despite this, Orange allegedly failed to make any adjustments to her job, preferring to pay her full salary for next 20 years, without any work to do.

Student caught using AI to cheat in test

Isparta: A Turkish university candidate was recently arrested after being caught using an Artificial Intelligence (AI)-powered system to obtain answers to the entrance exam in real-time.

On June 8, high school graduates took the Basic Proficiency Test, the first session of the Higher Education Institutions Examination in Isparta. One candidate, referred by initials M.E.E. was reportedly caught cheating using an ingenious system involving an internet connection, a concealed camera and an AI-powered software that could read the questions on the test and provide answers. The man's behaviour attracted supervisors' attention and on inspection, his cheating method was discovered.

VOICE OF THE READER

Are MCC vehicle drivers above law?

Sir,

On the afternoon of 12th June, around 1.10 pm, a truck with the registration number KA-09-AA-8708, belonging to the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), was observed near V.V. Puram Police Station violating basic traffic rules, showing complete disregard for the Police and the public.

The truck was carrying debris and a long pole, which was dangerously protruding nearly ten feet outside the chassis of the vehicle, posing a significant hazard to other road users. Additionally, the driver was observed driving in the wrong direction after jumping the traffic signal, neglecting the busy traffic and showing blatant disregard for both the Police and the general public.

This reckless behaviour not only endangered others on the road but also displayed a lack of responsibility on the driver's part, especially being an MCC driver.

Blackmail, Suicide Pact near MM Hills

Nayaka leaders console bereaved family members at K.R. Nagar village

Mysuru, June 19 (BS)- Nayaka community leaders from the district called on the next of kin of the family of Mahadeva Nayaka, of Chandagalu village in K.R. Nagar taluk, who had entered into a suicide pact recently and consoled them, on Tuesday.

The four of family members of Mahadeva Nayaka, including himself, his wife, daughter and 17-year-old minor granddaughter, had allegedly attempted suicide by consuming poison at Talabetta, near the foot of Male Mahadeshwara Hills recently. While Nayaka died instantly, his daughter died later at the hospital, with his wife and granddaughter surviving the bid to take their own lives. They had taken the extreme step, as a youth from the same village, but outside the caste, who was in love with the minor girl, had been allegedly blackmailing them to expose her photos with him.

Nayaka community leaders said: "The community is always ready to bring the accused to book, but the fellow leaders should not resort to take law into their hands. Instead, they should stand along with the bereaved family members and refrain from blaming the community to which the accused belongs to."

If in case, such incidents are reported in any other villages, they should be brought to the notice of the community elders. The emphasis should be on organising the community and strive towards ensuring to lead a life of courage even to the last mile person in the society. We are with the person of the community during any judicious occasion, and suicide is not the solution for all, they advised.

The leaders included Mysuru Taluk Nayaka Sangha President Udbur Mahadeva Swamy, General Secretary Kadakola Kumaraswamy, Mysuru District SC/ST Entrepreneurs Association President R. Manjunath, Engineer Jagadish, Prof. Haradanahalli Nanjunda Swamy, former Corporator Shobha Mohan, Jayapura Jawara Nayaka, T. Sickle cell anaemia detection to be intensified: Health Minister

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&BCT)- Health and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said that to eliminate sickle cell anaemia in Karnataka, the Health Department is taking measures to screen three lakh people in tribal areas and create more awareness.

Sickle cell anaemia is a genetic disease. It results in an abnormality in the oxygen-carrying protein haemoglobin found in red blood cells, leading to a rigid, sickle-like shape under certain circumstances. It affects the whole life of the affected patient and is more common in the tribal population but occurs in non-tribals too.

Dinesh Gundu Rao was speaking at the State-level 'Sickle Cell Anaemia Elimination Mission' held this morning at the Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Hall. The event was organised to assess the progress of the National Sickle Cell Anaemia Elimination Mission (NSCEM) launched in July 2023 by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Implemented in 17 high-focus States across the country including Karnataka, this programme aims to improve the care and prospects of all sickle cell disease patients while reducing the prevalence of the disease and it aims to eliminate sickle cell genetic transmission by the year 2047.

Health and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao seen handing over Sickle cell anaemia detection machine to H.D. Kote Taluk Health Officer Dr. Ravi at a programme in city this morning as (from left) Mysuru DHO Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, MP Yaduveer Wadiyar, Chamaraja MLA K. Harishgowda and NSCEM Karnataka Mission Director Dr. Naveen Bhat look on.

Campaign in seven districts

In alignment with the NSCEM, Karnataka has been taking steps towards reducing the incidence of such cases and providing trait genetic counselling to beneficiaries. Under the campaign launched in seven districts - Chamarajanagar, Mysuru, Kodagu, Udupi, Chikkamagaluru, Uttara Kannada and Dakshina Kannada -- where 3,52,187 tribals reside, disease screening is being done in phases, the Minister said.

In the Mysuru district, of the target population of 1,55,187 tribals, 14,150 have been screened and 630 have been found positive. They are non-serious cases and could be treated. 86 tribals have been detected with serious sickle cell anaemia and require medical intervention, the Minister noted.

Sophisticated machine released

Dinesh Gundu Rao released a machine developed by Prof. Sai Shivamurthy from the Indian Institute of Science (IISc.), Bengaluru to detect sickle cell anaemia disease. The Indian Oil Corporation Limited (IOCL) has sponsored the mass manufacture of the machines under its Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiative.

With one drop of blood, the machine can detect multiple ailments, the Minister said and added that such machines will be made available at all Taluk Hospitals and Primary Health Centres (PHCs) where the disease is prevalent. The Minister also distributed health cards to a section of tribal kids from H.D. Kote.

Marriage and disease spread

In his address, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra said that, as sickle cell disease is genetic, tribals must essentially get a disease-free certificate before marrying anyone.

"If the certification process is rigorously practised by tribals, the disease can be eliminated to a large extent," he opined. The DC also called upon the tribal population to get themselves checked regularly at PHCs and Taluk Hospitals for any ailment, even simple body aches.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP-elect Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, MLA K. Harishgowda, NSCEM Karnataka Mission Director Dr. Naveen Bhat, ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, Project Director, Reproductive and Child Health G.N. Srinivas, Deputy Director of Blood Banks Dr. N. Shakeela, Mysuru District Health Officer Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy, Regional Deputy Director of Health and Family Welfare Department Dr. Mallika and Dr. K.H. Prasad, IISc. Bengaluru Scientist Prof. Sai Shivamurthy, IOCL Marketing Head R.N. Dubey were present.

Lack of safety measures in goods vehicles

A goods vehicle transporting cement bags without a cover.

A brick laden lorry, with the labourer sitting over the overloaded bricks, spotted on Abba Road in Nazarbad in the city.

Mysuru, June 19 (PM&BS)- Stodgy vehicles carrying goods of types, but without following any safety norms as stipulated by Transport Department, have become rampant in the city, but the authorities concerned, except for intercepting them at select locations to penalise the offenders, are in no mood to crack a whip on them.

Concrete mixers mounted on the back of trucks, tipper lorries carrying overloaded sand and gravel stones and several other goods are commonly seen on the city roads. As is the rule, those carrying construction materials, should carry sand and stone to the container level and must be covered with cloth or tarpaulin sheet to avoid the dust from spilling on to the road, that may often hit the eyes of vehicle users, causing momentary blindness, leading to mishaps, sometimes even fatal.

In the case of iron grills and other metals that protrude from the vehicle containers, the red coloured cloth should be tied to the end of these materials, as a warning to other vehicle users to maintain a distance for their own safety. The incidents of these sharp edged articles piercing those who come in contact with them accidentally, if the vehicles carrying them stop abruptly upon the application of sudden brake, cannot be ruled out.

The concrete mixer vehicles will be functioning on the move, preparing the gravel, emitting a raucous sound, hitting the ears of road users. When such vehicle drivers fail to negotiate the turn at steep curves, the concrete gravel spill over the road, posing a threat to vehicle users, especially two-wheeler riders.

A concerned public said, the lorry operators prefer to overload the vehicles to avoid the amount of fuel consumed in case of running multiple trips on the same route. Instead of carrying the load restricted to the capacity, they carry more, coolly ignoring the danger that may cause.

Recently, a goods autorickshaw driver carrying iron grills for construction works, applied a sudden brake at Tilak Nagar junction in Bamboo Bazaar on New Sayyaji Rao Road. The driver decided to stop to avoid jumping the signal, but ended up causing the fall of iron grills in the front.

Fortunately, there were none standing in the front, who otherwise may have fallen victim to the reckless driving of the goods auto driver.

Another issue is about goods vehicles misused for transporting people, mostly daily wagers and farm workers. These gross violations on the part of goods vehicle operators, have to be dealt with a iron hand, rather than waking up to the heat of the moment, demand the concerned public.

M.G. Road traffic: DC's solution

Firstly, Dr. Rajendra instructed MCC officers to ensure cleanliness, stationing permanent Pourakarmikas at the M.G. Road market. Secondly, he directed the installation of barricades between the road and the market to prevent vendors and vehicles from spilling over onto the road.

Vehicles carrying vegetables and fruits must enter the market rather than being parked on the road. All vehicles were mandated to load and unload produce inside the market premises.

To enforce compliance, CCTV cameras would be installed at strategic points, with penalties for vendors selling on the road or loading/ unloading there.

The Traffic Police were tasked with exploring options to facilitate direct connectivity for vehicles transporting produce from H.D. Kote, T. Narasipur and Nanjangud to the vegetable market via Mysore Race Club (behind Kamat Hotel), thereby reducing pressure on the M.G. Road underbridge.

After issuing immediate implementation orders, the officers proceeded to the new DC's Office on Bannur Road for further discussions.

Long-pending issue: Despite repeated appeals and concerns raised over an extended period, the matter remains unresolved, leading to ongoing challenges. The current setup of the vegetable market contributes to significant chaos, particularly due to the presence of tempos and vendors' vehicles, which obstruct both motorists and pedestrians.

The haphazard parking of vehicles and the makeshift vendors occupying either side of the road to sell their produce, ranging from vegetables to fruits, leaves and other farm produce, make it hazardous for vehicle users to navigate through this busy stretch.

The absence of a median dividing the road exacerbates the situation, with vendors' vehicles constantly criss-crossing the road, posing serious hazards to road users. Furthermore, stray cattle roaming the streets present additional safety concerns for pedestrians and motorists alike. The considerable amount of garbage, largely generated by the market vendors, attracts stray cattle to M.G. Road.

Second spot inspection by DC, City Top Cop

A few days ago, officials led by DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, accompanied by City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, inspected the junction of M.G. Road vegetable market near the road underbridge, a notorious hotspot for traffic congestion. During their visit, they advised vendors to adhere to traffic rules.

Following their inspection, there was a temporary order for one or two days. However, chaos quickly returned as vendors and vehicles resumed flouting norms.

Addressing the situation, the DC mentioned ongoing civil disputes related to the M.G. Road market. He announced plans to convene a meeting shortly after the Lok Sabha election results, involving stakeholders such as local MLAs, leaders, the Chairman of Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA), Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and Police Officers to reach a suitable decision.

JD(S) protests fuel price hike

Mysuru, June 19 (GA&TRR)- Janata Dal (Secular) party workers, led by Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD), staged a protest in front of Gandhi Square in the city this morning against the State Congress Government's decision to hike the price of petrol and diesel.

Speaking on the occasion, GTD said that by hiking fuel prices the State Government has burdened the people.

"Hiking the price of fuel is a sensitive issue, but the Chief Minister is justifying the hike by comparing the prices of other States. How can auto drivers and two-wheeler owners pay Rs.103 daily? The State Government, after coming to power, has increased the rates of liquor and stamp duty for property registrations. Now, it is learnt that it is considering increasing the rates of drinking water which is so essential for everyone," he said.

Continuing, the MLA said that the CM and Congress leaders were claiming that they will win 15-20 Lok Sabha seats but managed only 9, that too with a margin of 20,000 to 25,000 votes. But the NDA candidates have won by a margin of 2 lakh to 3 lakh votes. Unable to digest the defeat, they have now raised fuel prices to take revenge on voters. If the State Government is really pro-poor, it should immediately withdraw the fuel hike, he added.

MLCs C.N. Manjegowda and K. Vivekananda, former Mayor R. Lingappa, former Corporators SBM Manju, Prema Shankaregowda and Shivanna, JD(S) City President K.T. Cheluvegwoda, leader H.K. Ramu and others were present.

'Study of literature will save our life during difficult times'

Kannada Book Authority Chairman Manasa at book release event

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&TRR)- "If we inculcate the habit of reading books in our life, we can lead a peaceful life," opined Chairman of Kannada Book Authority Manasa after inaugurating a function organised to mark the release of two books 'Tangaaliyalli Walking' and 'Baduku Bimba' authored by Padma Anand.

The function was organised by Mysuru Sahitya Dasoha organisation at Institution of Engineers-India (IEI) premises on JLB Road in city on Sunday.

"Like revolutionary Basavanna's Kalyana Kaarya, Mysuru Sahitya Dasoha is organising many functions related to literary field which is laudable. It has become inevitable for all of us to develop love for books. To lead a peaceful life, we must develop the habit of reading books," said Manasa.

"People in the age group of 40 to 50 years are purchasing tablets to lead their life. If we inculcated the habit of reading books right from the beginning of our life it is possible to lead a peaceful life. Reading books will help us to lead a healthy life as having a matured state of mind will lead to a quality life. People are excusing themselves from reading books by saying that they don't have time though they have time to do other things," he added.

Stating that some people are in the habit of going on pilgrimage in their old age to seek mental peace, he said every one must have the habit of reading books even if they don't understand them. "If we continue this habit, literature will save our life during our difficult times. People will refuse to purchase books but buy expensive things. We all should buy more books. DVG's 'Mankuthimmana Kagga' is still very relevant. It should have been awarded the first Jnanpith Award. I still wonder why the selection committee didn't consider this book," regretted Manasa.

Senior Science writer S. Ramprasad, who presided, released the book 'Tangaaliyalli Walking' and senior scholar Dr. Kabbinale Vasanth Bharadwaj released 'Baduku Bimba.' Prof. Mysore Krishnamurthy and Asst. Integrated Planning Officer G. Venkatachala spoke about the books. Dot-portrait artist Mohan Vernekar, senior writer Kerodi M. Lolakshi, Mysuru Sahitya Dasoha Founder Padma Anand and M.R. Anand were present.

MyMUL members climb Chamundi Hill

Create awareness on 'Nandini' products

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&VNS)- Members of Mysuru Milk Union Limited (MyMUL) Administrative Committee, officials and staff climbed Chamundi Hill through steps to create awareness among the public about Nandini products, here on Sunday.

The special jatha was flagged off by MyMUL President M. Prasanna at the foot of Chamundi Hill. Members, who took part in the jatha, were seen holding banners and placards with printed messages about various Nandini products.

The jatha also created awareness among the morning walkers who climb Chamundi Hill using the steps. The jatha culminated in front of Sri Chamundeshwari Hill Temple.

Speaking on the occasion, Prasanna said that jatha was an effort from MyMUL to create awareness about various Nandini products among the morning walkers and the other public atop Chamundi Hill.

"We are also giving a call to eradicate malnutrition using Nandini products and not use products which are made using chemicals. Nandini products will not only be healthy but will also help the local farmers to grow financially," he said.

Stating that MyMUL was also helping the farmers by distributing them with essential equipment, Prasanna said that MyMUL had entered the record book for the production of 9 lakh litres of milk and added efforts were on to sell Nandini products outside Karnataka also.

MyMUL Director Sachchidanand, who spoke on the occasion, said it was important to create awareness among the public regarding Nandini milk and other products.

MyMUL Managing Director B.N. Vijaykumar said that MyMUL has given priority to increasing milk production with sales posing a challenge. "We are chalking out various programmes such as painting competitions, jathas among others to convince the people to use only Nandini products," he added.

MyMUL Marketing Manager H.K. Jayashankar, MyMUL Directors K. Umashankark, A.T. Somashekar, CEO Prakash and Admin-Procurement Manager Jagadeesh were present.

'Associations play bigger role in identifying meritorious students'

Meritorious students who scored highest marks in SSLC and PUC exams (2023-24) were felicitated by Sakhi Foundation & Surya Charitable Trust at RamaGovinda Rangamandira in Ramakrishnanagar on Sunday.

Mysuru, June 19 (GA&VNS)- Associations must ensure to identify meritorious students like the parents who support their children for scoring good marks, said Additional Secretary (retd.), Government of India, C.V. Gopinath.

Speaking after inaugurating the Pratibha Puraskar programme, World Environment Day and Sakhi Swavalambi programme, jointly organised by Sakhi Foundation and Surya Charitable Trust at RamaGovinda Rangamandira at Ramakrishnanagar here on Sunday, Gopinath said that it was also the responsibility of the public to support the organisations which have been supporting the student community.

Calling upon people to create awareness among the children to conserve the environment, Gopinath said, people, who indulge in smoking not only pollute the environment but also spoil their health.

Kodava Heritage Centre faces delays in completion stage

Tourism Department officials await an additional Rs. 4.95 crore to expedite works

Madikeri, June 19 (PS&BCT)- The ambitious 'Kodava Heritage Centre' project at Karavale Badaga village near Madikeri, designed to showcase the unique culture, customs and traditions of the Kodava community to tourists from across the district, State and beyond, remains incomplete.

Rathi Vinay Jha

This Government initiative aimed at preserving the rich Kodava heritage has encountered significant delays, highlighting the indifferent approach of the authorities. Despite the construction of two 'Ain Mane'-inspired buildings and traditional ancestral homes of the Kodava community, the final phase of the project is stalled, leaving the heritage site in limbo.

Initiated over two decades ago, the project intended to establish the Kodava Heritage Centre on a spacious five-acre site in Karavale Badaga village near Madikeri. Construction began in 2011, yet after 14 years, the site awaits completion.

Originally conceived by retired IAS Officer Rathi Vinay Jha of the Codanda family during her tenure with the Union Ministry of Tourism, the project garnered a Union Government grant of Rs. 88 lakh in 2004. However, bureaucratic delays within the State Government postponed site selection until 2010.

The project has utilised a budget of Rs. 3,30,45,110 so far, but additional funding is necessary to finish crucial components. Presently, essential structures such as two glass houses, an entrance gate, kitchen, staircase, library, theatre, electrification, windows and doors have been erected.

Pending tasks

However, essential finishing tasks remain, such as polishing the red stone walls, constructing a compound around the front gate, installing stair railings and roofing the theatre. Additionally, critical infrastructure like roads, electricity, water and drainage facilities are yet to be fully provided.

The project has encountered numerous challenges from the outset, including technical issues, natural disasters, lockdown disruptions, contractor changes and bureaucratic delays, which have contributed to its prolonged state of incompleteness. Recently, the Tourism Department estimated an additional sanction of Rs. 4.95 crore to expedite the project's finalisation.

The project aims to showcase the cultural richness and lifestyle of the Kodava community, unique to the region. The Heritage Centre is envisioned to feature a museum displaying Ain Mane halls, Kodava culture, customs, heritage, traditional costumes, jewellery, significant crops of Kodagu and ancestral artefacts.

Proposal sent to Minister

The Tourism Department has submitted the proposal to the Government and has brought the matter to the attention of Tourism Minister H.K. Patil for funding to complete the remaining tasks, including parking facilities, roads, electricity and other essential amenities. Upon the release of funds, work is expected to resume promptly.

Anita Bhaskar, Deputy Director of Tourism Department, emphasised the Department's dedication to securing the required funding and ensuring the timely completion of Kodava Heritage Centre. "We are making efforts to expedite the release of funds to swiftly finish this crucial project for Kodagu district. Once funds are available, we anticipate no further delays," she affirmed.

NOTE: *Now that there is a Congress Government in the State and a Congress Kodava MLA in Kodagu, it is surprising that the work on this Kodava Heritage Centre is ignored.—Ed

WORD OF THE DAY

Buttinsky

Pronunciation: buht-in-skee.
Meaning: A person who interferes in the affairs of others; meddler, one given to butting in.
Origin: Buttinsky is the sort of word that convinces speakers of English that anyone can invent words ... all one needs to do is to take one word, add it to another one, and then stick a good suffix on the end. This is not quite how language works. We cannot say who was the first wit to add the common last element of some Slavic surnames to the term butt in, but we can tell you that the word has been in common use since the beginning of the 20th century. The earliest known use of the noun buttinsky is in the 1900s. OED's earliest evidence for buttinsky is from 1901, in the Chicago Sunday Tribune.
Example: Her younger brother is always such a buttinsky, interfering in everyone's conversations.

THE ODD WORD

Baisemain

Kiss on the hand.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Be that as it may

Meaning: 'Be that as it may' means even if what you say is true.
Origin: The phrase 'Be that as it may' is English in origin, dating back to Geoffrey Chaucer's time, when it appeared as 'Be as be may.' In Old English, 'mæg' meant 'am able' as the verb 'may' does today. The term was also used in Old English as an auxiliary of prediction.
Example: "Be that as it may, I still cannot help you."

QUOTE BOX

It does not matter how slowly you go as long as you do not stop.

— Confucius
